The roads leading out of the city are all drying rapidly and with a few days of good weather, such as the first of the week, they will be in fine condition.

Judge Gray has made several trips to the country this week in the interest of county roads. He reports that farmers have been taking advantage of the good weather and have all been kept busy.

The joint committee from the Push Club and Chamber of Commerce on the entertainment of the commercial men who are to visit this city soon met last night and agreed upon a report to be referred back to their respective bodies.

The consolidation of the Atlantic steamship lines has excited general alarm in Europe. The news in the United States has, on the contrary, been received quietly, from the fact that we have nothing to lose by the combination, whether we profit or not.

President Roosevelt, it seems, is determined to exercise the functions of his high office in preserving the national dignity. The calling down of General Funston is a recent example of the exercise of the presidential prerogative.

Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, in his great speech yesterday before the Republican state convention, voiced the sentiment of the majority of the American people when he stated that expansion must follow the flag. All honor to such patriots as Beveridge.

The editor of the Post-Intelligencer is evidently trying to be funny as evidenced in the issue of Wednesday last of the following: "The shah of Persia is about to pay a visit to Berlin. When he and the emperor meet, can it properly be called a shah-king encounter?"

Mrs. Hansen, whose house is quarantined, was reported to be dying early this morning. She has been very low for several days and her death has been expected daily. The young lady who has the smallpox at the Hansen place is reported to be doing well.

The annual clean-up at Dawson is almost due and Seattle is rejoicing in the hope of the result being poured in to her coffers, at least to the extent of a large proportion of the millions that will come down from the frozen North and flow into the legitimate channels of trade.

It would seem that inmates of a poor form would not have spunk enough left to get up a fight. Yet that is what two aged inmates at McMinville did the other day, in which one of them was severely stabbed. A man who manifests as much enterprise as this should be well qualified to make a living of his own.

Coroner Pohl received a telegram from C. A. Tewksbury, of Boston, yesterday, inquiring the cost of a decent burial for his brother, P. Q. Tewksbury, who died in this city night before last; also making inquiry of probable cost of shipping the body to Boston. The coroner wired an estimate, but up to a late hour last night had received no reply.

The joint committee on the regatta has not begun active operations yet, but will do so in a few days. It is the purpose to first meet and organize a plan of operation. The work is an intricate one and will require a great deal of walking and talking. In fact, there is so much to do that it is difficult to get men to agree to take the matter up and stay with it to the end. For this reason the plan of employing some one to make it a business matter and devote his entire attention is growing more popular every day.

There are various reports out about the smallpox conditions. It was reported yesterday that the case at Hansen's had been taken to the pesthouse, and it was also claimed that the patient already there was being neglected. An inquiry into the conditions brought out the fact that the case is still at Hansen's and under quarantine, and that the patient at the pesthouse is well cared for in every way, has all the comforts of life and a competent nurse to look after his wants. In the meantime, work is progressing on the new pesthouse, which will be ready to receive patients by the first of next week.

The Astorian is in receipt of a circular letter issued from the office of the Northwest Pacific Farmer, of Portland, setting forth that the Portland Board of Trade has decided to issue an edition of 100,000 copies of the Northwest Pacific Farmer, setting forth the advantages of Oregon to immigrants and asking for information in regard to this section of the state. The Astorian will be very glad to assist in a matter of this kind and to this end, suggests correspondence from any and all who have the welfare of the state at heart.

Alderbrook is now connected with the main part of the city by street railway. The first car of the Astoria Electric Company started over the new extension at 5:55 o'clock yesterday afternoon and made the trip successfully. The citizens along the line of the new extension were agreeably surprised. They had been expecting it to begin running at any time, but when the first car was followed up by another and another and a regular schedule put on from the beginning it was a great treat to them. The roadbed is in fine condition and the cars make good time. While the new extension is more than a half of a mile in length yet it will not change the city schedule. The cars will make up the time on the new extension. Any one wishing a pleasant ride will find it in a trip out to Alderbrook.

If there is a man in Astoria that is broke it is his own fault. If there is a merchant or business man who complains of hard times it's a ten-to-one shot that he doesn't advertise. From one end of the city to the other are evidences of enterprise in building, repairing, the erection of plants that will employ large numbers of men, the fishing and packing industry, the building of saw mills, the entry and departure of ships from all ports of the civilized world, a climate that is unsurpassed under the broad canopy of heaven and yet some people of Astoria are not happy. Why? Simply because they don't realize what a good thing they have. That the city of Astoria is prosperous is exemplified in the fact that its people all have money and nobody but chronic croakers are kicking.

A meeting of the Republican county central committee was held yesterday afternoon at the headquarters. Fourteen out of nineteen precincts were represented. Reports from the outside precincts were in effect that in many of the precincts a larger vote would be polled this year than two years ago, and that there would be a large increase in the Republican vote; that the party was never as harmonious as this year and voters were taking an active interest in the election. It was decided to hold meetings at eleven on Saturday evening, May 10; Seaside, Saturday evening, May 17; Olney, Saturday evening, May 24th. Other meetings will be announced next week. It was also decided to make a thorough canvass of the county. From reports received from the precincts it is estimated that the state ticket will be elected by 600 majority, the legislative ticket by nearly as much and the county ticket will be elected by good majorities ranging from 200 to 700. Nearly all the candidates were present and expressed themselves as well satisfied with the outlook. The committee and candidates will meet again Thursday, May 15.

The committeemen in charge of the publication of the new book advertising the resources of this section say that they have by no means slighted local photographers in preparing the work. They have called on the local photographers regularly for the past month and have not only selected everything they had that could be used to an advantage in the way of photographs but have requested them to take pictures and have taken them. They say that indoor and outdoor photography are two distinct trades and that while many are experts at either class of work not all of them are equipped for outdoor work. The members of the committee say that it has always been the purpose of the local commercial organizations to patronize home enterprises first, but they have been unable to secure a sufficient number of photographs to illustrate the contemplated book; that Mr. Moorehouse, who only claims to be an amateur, is one of the best scenic artists in the Northwest and is specially prepared for the work. He agrees to come simply for his expenses and the committee considered the proposition the most feasible one to get the work done. They say that they are ready to take any local pictures that are suitable for the work and pay for them or pay to have good pictures taken.

Personal Mention.

F. D. Vincent, of Tillamook, is in the city.

Otto Ferguson, of The Dalles, is in the city.

R. A. Hawkins, of Ilwaco, went to Portland last evening.

F. A. Higgins and C. C. McDonald, of San Francisco, came down on the night train.

Mrs. A. M. Hare and Miss Marion Hare and Mrs. W. B. Cone, of Bay City, are at the Parker House.

A. W. McKenzie, H. H. Ingalls, J. D. Myer, J. Edwards, E. W. Wright and son, and C. L. Wright, all of Portland are in the city.

NOTICE.

There will be a meeting of the Astoria High School alumni at Judge Gray's residence on Monday evening, April 28, at 7:30. A full attendance is requested, as there is business of importance to come before the meeting. CHAS. E. GRAY, President.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS.

Meet and Perfect Temporary Organization.

Fifty young men, among the brightest and most intelligent in the city, met last night at Republican headquarters on Commercial street, and perfected temporary organization of a young men's Republican club, the purpose of which is to take an active part in the present state and county political campaign. Several enthusiastic speeches were made and the young men showed that they were determined and would be a factor in winning votes for the Republican party.

While they enthusiastically endorsed the Republican ticket from governor down, and pledged themselves to work for the whole ticket, they especially agreed to work for the young men on the ticket, indicating a hearty endorsement of Chas. A. Heilborn for county treasurer of Clatsop County.

Under the temporary organization, C. T. Crosby was elected chairman and Allen Anderson secretary. Dalgity, Hardesty, Knutsen, Palmberg, McCue, Gray and Heilborn all made enthusiastic speeches.

It was agreed to have a smoker a week from tonight at 8 o'clock, at which time permanent organization will be perfected. The following were appointed as a committee to arrange for the smoker: W. B. Young, chairman; D. A. McLean, A. B. Dalgity, John McCue and A. Callan. Besides this committee, every member present was appointed a committee of one to solicit new members and work for the good of the organization.

At the smoker next Friday evening there will also be speaking and music. They expect to secure the services of able speaker.

It was agreed that none but young Republicans should be eligible to membership and invited to take part in their meetings.

The young Republican club expects to be a factor in the present campaign.
